

Signs & Symptoms of LYME DISEASE

The early stage of Lyme disease is usually marked by one or more of the following symptoms and signs:

- ◆ fatigue
- ◆ chills and fever
- ◆ headache
- ◆ muscle and joint pain
- ◆ swollen lymph nodes
- ◆ a characteristic skin rash, called erythema migrans

For more information on Lyme disease, see www.health.ri.gov/disease/communicable/lyme/index.php

—OR—

www.lifespan.org/services/infectious/lyme/clinic.htm

LYME DISEASE CLINIC AT RHODE ISLAND HOSPITAL

RHODE ISLAND HOSPITAL AMBULATORY PATIENT CARE CENTER, 5TH FLOOR
593 EDDY STREET • PROVIDENCE, RI • OFFICE HOURS TUESDAYS, 1:00PM – 5:00PM

For adults who are referred by their primary care physician

Call (401) 444-4800

to schedule
an appointment